Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 1-25, 28-38 renumbered as 1-36 respectively are allowed.

Reasons for Allowance

2. The following is statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

Regarding claims renumbered as 1, 15, 28, 30-31 and 37, the prior art of reference Flickinger, full advertisements are inserted into a content stream using AD_IDs and ad resource locators (ARL) to represent the advertisements in full. Flickinger further discloses that each ad could have a separate PID in paragraph [0077], Flickinger does not explicitly disclose use of PID to represent only one or more macroblocks of substitute content as claimed. Flickinger asserts that his system can be used to insert ads into a portion of the screen [paragraph 0041], however Flickinger fails to explicitly disclose, teach or suggest association of a collection of substitute macroblocks forming only a part of an image with its own separate PID. The prior art of reference Florencio discloses substituting one or more macroblocks of original content (Fig. 2 discloses one or more macroblocks of content constitute less than an entire video frame of macroblocks; Abstract & Col. 3, lines 42-67 to col. 4 lines 1-10—teaching inserting visual element into an encoded bit stream by replacing macroblock content). Whereas Florencio does not disclose assignment of a PID to identify a collection of substitute macroblocks, a skilled artisan using common sense would know that content to be substituted or replaced (i.e. such as a logo) can be stored on the set top box, the content to be substituted or replaced must first be transmitted to the set top box in a transmitted signal using some means of identification. However, the prior art of record fails to explicitly disclose the use of separate PID for the original content and the content to be used for the substitution or replacement which is characterized by the claim limitation when taking the claim as a whole.

3. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
